About the Aurora Fire Department

The Aurora Volunteer Fire Department is an all volunteer agency committed to providing professional emergency fire, rescue, and EMS services to its citizens. The station is made up of brave individuals who risk their lives in order to keep our community safe, and is funded by donations and through the Aurora-Ledyard Fire District.

The AVFD team responds to each and every call received as quickly as possible. This is because when dealing with emergency situations, every second counts. Training and equipment are all designed with this primary goal in mind, and the team prides itself on being quick-thinking, safety-minded, and fast-acting.

The AVFD is made up of your friends and neighbors in and around the village of Aurora. The members have varied careers, beliefs and experience. The team's common thread is a desire to help out in an emergency situation and, when the siren blows, they drop whatever they are doing and come to your aid.
